Plans Complete For July 4th Fete

Preparations for the three day festival to be staged by the American Legion on the 23-4 of July are all made and the Legion members are just awaiting the arrival of the first of the three day celebration to really get up and go to work.

Fun will take place on the city and beaches at the head of Union and Carroll avenues.

Joseph Benvenuti, general chairman of the event, said his committees are all lined up and that all plans are completed.

Headed the numerous committees are:

Joseph H. Benvenuti, general chairman; Electricity, Leroy Luke; Refreshments, Lucien Kidd and Milton Durel; Finances, Andy Becker; Ice Cream, Pop corn, Snowballs, Lemonade, etc, Bush Freddie; Penny throw board, Clois Deleaux; Iron ring throw, Bert Eliaz;

Baseball throw, Philip Hayes; Dinner stand, Auxiliary; Live Puffer, Stanley Weidman; Mystery bag, Auxiliary; Candy booth, Leroy Luke and Milton Durel; Cigar booth, John Rutherford Jr.; Horse races, Jerry Poolson; Country Store, Gerald Price and Sidney Manieri.

All Legion and Auxiliary members are reminded by John Rutherford, who will have the cake booth, to remember to bring their cakes to him as advised in a letter sent out this week, or to call him and he will see that they are picked up.

Anyone, whether a member of the Legion or not, who would like to contribute a cake may do so by contacting Rutherford at his home.

SPORTSMEN LEAGUE ELECTS OFFICERS

At a banquet held Wednesday, June 22, members of the Sportsmen League elected new officers to serve for the 1955-56 term of office.

Jack Ladner was re-elected to serve for his fourth consecutive term as president; James L. Crump was elected vice-president and Earl Ammond as Secretary and treasurer.

Members of the Board of Directors were unanimously elected to serve another term. They are Walter James Phillips, Fauncy Favre, James L. Crump, and Sylvan J. Ladner.

President Ladner announced that dues for 1955-56 are now payable and any member desirous of paying same may do so either to him or to Earl Ammond.

REV. BATSON GIVES BOOK REVIEW AT MEMORIAL LIBRARY

A small but very appreciative audience was on hand Wednesday afternoon at the Memorial Library when the Rev. Schuyler Batson presented a delightful review of Irving Stone's best-selling novel, "Love is Eternal."

Mr. Batson prefaced his talk by saying that the function of a reviewer was not to give the story of a book, but to so what the appetite of his listeners that they would read the book for themselves and that is what he did.

Telling just enough of the incidents of the novel so that the

Leland L. Lee Candidate For Justice Of Peace

Leland L. Lee has announced his candidacy for the office of Justice of the Peace, Beat 5, in the August Democratic Primary election.

His statement to the voters follows:

To the Citizens and Voters of Beat Five:

In announcing my candidacy for the office of Justice of the Peace, I wish to say that I will try to see each and every one in the Beat.

But, if I fail to do so, please do not get the impression that your vote isn't needed and appreciated.

I hope my qualifications for this office meets with the approval of all.

I have lived in Hancock County all my life and will soon be 54 years old. I am married and have three grown children. I have resided and been in business in Bay St. Louis for 12 years.

I have no connection in any way, form or fashion with the so-called political organizations or groups. I am an independent candidate.

If elected, I will conduct this office to the best of my ability in a just, honest and dignified manner with the rights of all considered, regardless of race or creed.

I have been honored in having many of the citizens of Beat 5 ask me to run for the office of Justice of the Peace. After careful consideration, I have decided to be a candidate for the position.

I feel I can serve the people best in that capacity.

With this in mind, I humbly ask you, the people of Beat Five, for your vote and influence in the forthcoming election.

Sincerely yours,
LELAND L. LEE

KC DANCE PLANNED

The Knights of Columbus will sponsor a Fourth of July weekend dance, Saturday night, July 2 at their home on Main St.

Music will be provided by the "Southerners."

Festivities will begin at 9 p.m. and last until 1 a.m. All members and their guests are invited.

Henry Doussan Candidate For Justice of Peace

Henry J. Doussan has announced his candidacy for the office of Justice of the Peace, Beat 5, in the August Democratic Primary election.

His formal statement to the voters follows:

TO THE VOTERS OF BEAT 5, HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI

I wish to take this means to formally announce to the voters of Beat 5 that I am a candidate for Justice of the Peace, Beat 5, of Hancock County.

In a few days our nation celebrates on July 4, our Independence Day. In the same spirit that our country declared its independence from any political, social or economic ties with England, I wish now to declare my independence from any political party affiliated or not, in running for the honorable office of Justice of the Peace of Beat 5.

I am an independent candidate.

Furthermore this independence shall be a mark of my office after I am elected. Independence means freedom from graft, independence from corruption and independence from tyranny. I pledge to you that honesty, decency and self respect shall prevail at all times.

It has never been my policy to criticize a competitor, whether it be in politics or business, because to do so would be to enhance one's position at the expense of another—a practice which only serves to show lack of character.

It is my feeling that a man's right to a political office should depend entirely on his character and ability to serve the public in a manner by which the public will derive the greatest benefit. It is on this basis that I am seeking this office.

I to say that I am capable, not only to administer the duties of Justice of the Peace but when I am elected I feel certain that the voters of Beat 5 will derive maximum benefits from the fair administration of and performance of my duties, with malice towards none.

I am a native son of Bay St. Louis. I was born on April 29, 1914, in Bay St. Louis, Hancock County, one of seven children. I presently reside at 410 Beach Blvd. with my wife and five children. I have two sons attending St. Stanislaus College and two daughters attending St. Joseph Academy. Our youngest child will be of school age next year. I want my children to receive their education and to experience the enjoyment of living and growing up in the Bay.

In 1943, while the father of 4 children, I enlisted in the USMC and served in the Pacific Area. Upon my honorable discharge from the Marine Corps I engaged in business as a manufacturing representative working the Gulf Coast Area and in and about New Orleans.

In 1948, I went in the Real Estate business in the Bay Area handling property sales, rentals and appraisals. I am also a Mississippi licensed Insurance Agent.

With the broad experience in business I possess, I feel that I am in a position to cope with any of the duties incident to the office of Justice of the Peace and to be of real benefit to the citizens in Beat 5.

The office of Justice of the Peace requires a man with insight, vision and strength of character in order to cope with the office's many and varied problems.

As to complaints of violations which I am called upon to exact Justice with due recognition of the rights of each individual under the law.

Additionally, I believe that the office of Justice of the Peace demands an interest in the problems of our young people. After I am elected, I intend to use my office to aid in the development of youth programs. Certainly the efforts of those individuals who have sponsored the Teen Age Club, etc., will receive my endorsement and support. Expanded facilities and clean entertainment will be for the teen-agers asking. They are entitled to it.

We really have no Juvenile Delinquency problem in Beat 5. Our youth are not delinquent. And I intend to keep the situation that way.

HENRY J. DOUSSAN
Candidate

DESTROY MARIJUANA FARM—Constable Nolan Kingston and Herman Meier inspect one of the 36 marijuana plants they discovered Tuesday growing in the heart of Bay St. Louis.

BOTTOM—Constable Kingston (left) and Meier inspect their take—a box of marijuana weeds, moth balls used to keep insects off the plants, watering cans and fertilizer.

A marijuana farm was found flourishing only a few blocks from the Bay St. Louis business district Tuesday by Constable Nolan Kingston and Herman Meier. The well-tended plot of the narcotic weed was uncovered in a thicket during the routine investigation of a prowler report. The weeds, ranging in size from seedlings a few inches tall to plants a foot and a half high, would have been worth about $1000 upon reaching maturity, according to Federal narcotic agents.

Bay Girls Are Hostesses To Vet Patients

It didn't take long for Dianne Seuzeneau and Doodie Scaife, popular members of the younger set in town, to answer the appeal from the Red Cross for local teenagers to help entertain hospitalized servicemen at Keesler Air Force Base hospital.

Doodie gathered up her music and Dianne got busy on the phone and they rounded up one of the nicest and most attractive groups we've ever had at a party," according to Miss Sarah Thomas, head Red Cross recreation worker at the hospital.

The vivacious belles going to Keesler were Rusty Breath, Phyllis Buckley, Kinta Kergosien, Patsy Shadon, Shirley Miller, Kathleen Benigno, Jeannette Monti, Janell Elgoff, Jeannette Seuzeneau, Betty Sullivan, Anne Practor, Sheila Heitzmann, Pam Crasla, Janell Mitchell, Diane Blanchard, Domenica Benigno, Dianne Seuzeneau and Doodie Scaife.

Chaperones were Mmes. George Seuzeneau Jr., Charles Breath, Patricia Barron, Etta Maspero, W. Argus from Bay St. Louis; Miss Thomas; and Mrs. Miles, Red

Kingston had answered a call to investigate a reported prowler and was searching through the dense growth when his attention was attracted by moth balls scattered on the ground. Upon investigating, he found the weed growing in three separate patches, the largest about six feet across.

Some of the smaller plants, which were arranged in hills, were motivated by Constable Kingston who have been planted within the last two weeks.

Kingston and Meier found several watering cans, fertilizer and nearly-empty bags of moth balls the latter placed around the plants apparently to keep off insects. They also found empty whiskey bottles, cigarette packs and bottles of mosquito repellent at the scene.

Thirty-five of the plants were uprooted. It was estimated they would have been mature in about 30 days.

Courthouse Is Hotel As County Hosts Travelers

County officials were hosts and the courthouse a hotel for a bus load of young people Tuesday night.

Twenty-eight girls, six boys, two women chaperones and a guide by the name of Pat Harrison, all of Glendale, Calif., were the guests.

The group, traveling in a chartered bus, are on a forty-five day tour of the United States. They travel equipped with sleeping bags and usually camp out-of-doors at night. The young people are all high school students. They are carrying about four hundred dollars worth of film and take moving pictures of historically interesting spots on their tour.

Last night they had planned to sleep on the beach, but the weather made it impossible. Officials were contacted, and the county house thrown open, with the courtroom turned into a dormitory for their convenience.

SERVICES TUESDAY FOR MAN DROWNED AT CLERMONT HARBOR

Funeral services were held Tuesday for Albert M. Fleming, 64 year old resident of New Orleans and Clermont Harbor.

Fleming was merchandising manager of the national advertising department of the New Orleans Times-Picayune.

His body was found fifteen minutes after he left his summer home Sunday afternoon at Clermont Harbor to swim in a nearby pool.

Reports On Girls State Trip

By DOMENICA BENIGNO

Saturday morning, June 11, 1955 was a week of learning, friendship and fun at Magnolia Girls' State in Jackson for five representatives of Hancock County.

Riding the Trailway bus up to Jackson, Annie Ruth Bennett, Domenica Benigno, Willie Etta Lader, Mary Rayburn and Connie Rippe met other Girl Staters on their way to Belhaven College.

The girls were assigned to their political parties, counting and dominating the following the arrival at the college.

Dr. McFerran, president of Belhaven College, met the girls and Mrs. F. D. Dismore, president of the Jackson Chapter of the National Legion of Women, met them at the college.

Dr. Benigno, president of the Hancock County Chapter of the National Legion of Women, met them at the college.

The program of Girls' State was a series of lectures, group discussions and an introduction to the state.

The two parties, National and Federalists, began to work on party platforms. After the election of campaign managers and election of commissioners, there were written announcements of candidates for the respective party nominations. The evening of Saturday was concluded by an address by Mr. D. L. Luckey, Commissioner of the City of Jackson and a movie of the 1953 Girls' State.

Reveille at 6:30 woke the girls up Sunday. Each Stater went to Sunday School or the church of her choice.

Nominations of officials preceded retreat and a picnic supper by the lake.

Edward Perry, President of Boys Nation, conducted Vesper services that evening.

An address by Francis Bowling of Jackson and the speeches of candidates were followed by Tops at 10:30.

The voting on Monday was conducted like an actual election. Each Stater went into a closed compartment where she voted. Following addresses by Dr. C. Singer, Mrs. B. Grant and Mrs. D. M. Jackson, the rest of the afternoon was dedicated to meetings of different clubs. Announcement of election results ended the third day at Magnolia Girls' State.

The next few days, each girl, after being elected or appointed, went to her respective office and began learning and performing its duties. Annie Ruth Bennett, Domenica Benigno and Connie Rippe were in the House of Representatives. Willie Ladner and Mary Rayburn were City Commissioners.

Stunt night was a competition between the two parties. The Federalists won for their production of a director trying to direct a show with two comical colored janitors looking on.

Friday evening before the long awaited reception at the mansion, each girl received a certificate. The sports trophy was awarded to the Federalists. Then, preparation to go to the Governor's Mansion began.

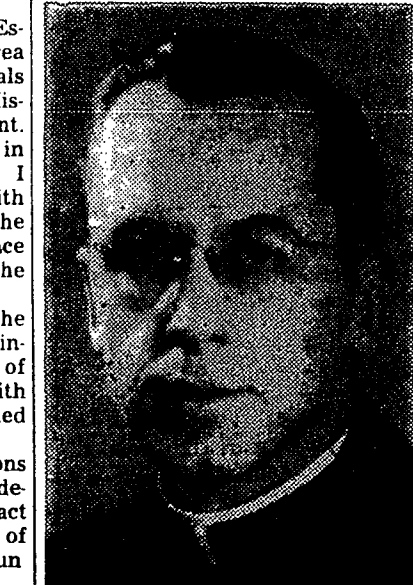

Upon arriving at the Mansion, the Girls' Staters, all beautifully dressed in evening gowns, passed a receiving line of dignitaries. The Governor, received each girl in a sitting room. Cakes and punch were served while a pianist entertained.

After the friendship circle Saturday morning, the girls bade farewell to all their new-found, but never-to-be-forgotten friends.

Hearts sad on leaving, but happy on returning home, girls left Belhaven College, only physically because they would always remember the wonderful week at Magnolia Girls' State.

Father Pung Named SVD Provincial, Rev. Kuhl New St. Augustine's Rector

The Very Rev. Robert E. Pung, SVD, is the new Provincial of the Divine Word Missionaries of the Southern United States Province with headquarters at St. Augustine's Seminary here. The ceremonies.

money of installation will take place on Thursday, June 30 at 11:30 a.m. in the Seminary Chapel. A special luncheon will follow.

K C BANQUET

Pere LeDuc Council entertained the Intercoastal Councils of Knights of Columbus with a banquet Sunday afternoon at the KC home on Main St.

About 60 Knights were present from Pascagoula, Biloxi and Gulfport councils as guests of the local Knights. State Deputy Harvey Strahan, Jackson, was also a guest and speaker, as was District Deputy Hilton Seymour of Biloxi.

SHOOTING MATCH

There will be a shooting match at Edison Bounds, Main St., at 2 p.m. Sunday, July 3.

Other appointees published at this time are as follows: The Very Rev. Paul Kuhl, SVD, Rector of St. Augustine's Seminary; The Rev. Hubert Posjena, SVD, Assistant Provincial; The Rev. John Komper, SVD, Prefect of the Scholastics; the Rev. William Adams, Prefect of the Minor Seminary; The Rev. William Williams, SVD, Provincial Treasurer.

Father Provincial Pung will have the Rev. Hubert Posjena, SVD, the Rev. John Komper, SVD, the Rev. Anthony Bourges, pastor of Notre Dame Church in St. Martinville and the Rev. Joseph Eckert, SVD as his board of advisers. The Very Rev. William C. Bauer, SVD, Provincial of the South for the last seven years will leave shortly after the installation ceremonies to take up the position of Rector of Holy Ghost Mission Seminary, East Troy, Wisconsin, another Divine Word Seminary.

Born in Westphalia, Mich., in 1916, Father Pung began his studies for the missionary priesthood with the Divine Word Missionaries at St. Mary's Missionary Seminary, Techny, Ill., in 1931. The following September, he volunteered to continue his studies in the newly established Divine Word Seminary at Epworth, Iowa.

He completed his first two years of college—the last two years of preparatory seminary—at Sacred Heart Mission Seminary, Girard, Pa.

Most of his two-year Novitiate and his studies in Philosophy and Theology were accomplished at St. Mary's Mission Seminary, Techny, where he was ordained to the priesthood in August 1944 by the Most Rev. Archbishop William O'Brien, D.D.

During the summer of 1945, after his seminary course was finished, Father Pung was first assigned to the Southern Province, where he took up his studies as assistant prefect of the Minor Seminary. This position he held for four and a half years.

Heart Mission Seminary, Girard, Pa.

Virtually interested in keeping the germ of the priestly and religious vocation alive in the hearts of boys still in elementary school, Father Pung originated the Future Priest Club in September 1947. The success of this idea of encouraging vocations to both the diocesan and religious clergy can be observed from the fact that during the last few years more than 150 of its members have entered seminaries throughout the United States each September.

Further, last month over 10,000 copies of the "Shepherd," the official publication of the club, were distributed.

Father Pung also has been the guiding spirit of the Lay Retreat Movement at St. Augustine's Seminary, which began in the summer of 1945 with 35 men attending. The movement reached an all-time peak last summer with six week-end retreats and a day of recollection, with more than 500 men participating.

In December 1950 Father Pung became editor of St. Augustine's Messenger. In June 1952, he was appointed rector of St. Augustine's Seminary, the seventh rector in the history of the seminary. Besides the office of rector, Father Pung was editor of the Messenger and director of the Future Priest Club. During his three years as rector, Father Pung has been indefatigable in promoting the success and improvement of St. Augustine's Seminary.

First assignment held by Father Kuhl following his ordination at St. Augustine's Seminary, Bay St. Louis, here in the history of the seminary. He served until 1952 when he was appointed Provincial of the Southern United States Province. Installation ceremonies were held in the Chapel of St. Augustine's Seminary on June 30, 1955.

The Very Rev. Paul Kuhl, SVD, has been named the new rector of St. Augustine's Seminary to succeed the Very Rev. Robert E. Pung, SVD, who has been appointed Provincial of the Divine Word Missionaries of the Southern United States Province. The new rector, Father Kuhl, was born Dec. 1, 1916, at St. Martin, Minn.

He received his early education at St. Martin and in Collegeville, Minn., at St. John's Preparatory College. He finished his college training at Sacred Heart Mission Seminary, a Divine Word Seminary in Girard, Pa., in 1938.

Novitiate and First Professions were made at St. Mary's Mission Seminary, another Divine Word Seminary at Techny, Ill. On Aug. 15, 1947, Father Kuhl was ordained priest by the Most Rev. Archbishop William D. O'Brien, of Chicago at St. Mary's Mission Seminary.

First assignment held by Father Kuhl following his ordination at St. Augustine's Seminary, Bay St. Louis, here in the history of the seminary. He served until 1952 when he was appointed Provincial of the Southern United States Province. Installation ceremonies were held in the Chapel of St. Augustine's Seminary on June 30, 1955.

Life insurance, a bank account, and a growing stack of United States Savings Bonds are three requisites of a sound personal savings plan.

US Savings Bonds are a four-lane highway to a brighter future. They help the nation, the community, the thrifty saver, and his family.

Benjamin Franklin said: "A penny saved is a penny got"—though we usually misquote it "a penny earned." Either way, the regular buyer of United States Savings Bonds is heading the advice of that wise American.

For future ease, put your savings in U.S. United States Savings Bonds. The Payroll Savings plan where you work makes it easy.

"Beware of little Expenses; a small Leak will sink a great Ship." That was Benjamin Franklin's advice. Buying US Savings Bonds on the Payroll Savings Plan, 8 1/2 million Americans today are saving regularly before they are tempted to spend needlessly.

More than anything else, most Americans want security. U. S. Savings Bonds provide financial security.

Every day is Savings Bond Day for the thrifty worker on the Payroll Savings Plan.

SERVICES HELD FRIDAY FOR MRS. EDNA JONES

Mrs. Edna Campbell Jones, who died in Jacksonville, Fla., was buried Friday, June 23 on Campbell's Island.

She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Campbell. At the time of her death Mrs. Jones headed the education Department of the Jackson High School in Jacksonville.

She is survived by a sister, Miss Christine Campbell, a brother, R. G. Campbell, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held from Fahey Funeral Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan B. Haggerty, nee June Elliott, announce the birth of their sixth son and ninth child Tuesday, June 28 at Mercy Hospital, New Orleans. He weighed 10 1/2 lbs.

Mrs. Michael Francis Egan and two children, Michael Jr. and Kinta of Washington, D. C. are spending the summer with Mrs. Egan's parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. P. Smith. Other guests of the Smiths last week were Mr. and Mrs. George Vidrine Jr. and four children of Houston, Texas, and Mrs. George Vidrine, of Port Arthur, Texas.

There's no surer way to protect your own future than investing in your country's future — another reason for buying U. S. Savings Bonds.

"So you're a painter?"

"Yep."

"Paint houses, I presume."

"Nope, paint men and women."

"Oh—I see, an artist."

"Nope. Just paint 'Men' over one door and 'Women' over the other door."

The U. S. Savings Bonds you buy on the Payroll Savings Plan are the part of your take-home pay that grows. Often said; worth remembering.

Miss Mary Frances Spotorno, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Humbert L. Spotorno of Marksville, was married recently to Dr. Kenneth Drummond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel M. Drummond, of Vicksburg, La., and Mrs. Lewis C. Drummond of Shreveport, La.

The wedding ceremony took place at a Nuptial Mass at St. Joseph's Church on Monday, June 24 at 11 o'clock in the morning.

The bride was given in marriage by her father in a double ring ceremony. She entered the church on the arm of her father to traditional wedding marches played on the organ, and during the ceremony several solos and duets were sung by cousins of the bride and bridegroom.

Potted palms, cathedral candles in gold holders and white gladioli in gold vases adorned the altar and the church.

The bride wore a ballerina length gown of imported Chantilly lace over white tulle. The bodice featured a sweetheart neckline and long torso waist, with a hooped skirt. A tiarra of mother of pearl sequins held the finger tip length veil to the head. Elbow gloves of the Chantilly lace completed her ensemble. She carried a sweetheart shaped bouquet of white stephanotis and

by
GEORGETTE B. HALL

Attention all town agents! No more to attend the weekly dance to be held for them again on this Friday night in the auditorium of the Waveland School. Anyone who is interested in the Youth Center is asked to send his suggestions to "Waveland Waverline" in care of the Hancock Eagle, Bay St. Louis. The group will meet throughout the summer and visitors are welcomed.

Ed P. ORTTE
Foa Sheriff and Tax-Collector

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR SINCERITY, SUCCESS AND EXPERIENCE, SO MAKE ORTTE YOUR NEXT SHERIFF AND TAX COLLECTOR

Be fair to yourself, your county and the candidates when you make your selection for your next sheriff. Don't you believe the Sheriff should be a man who has the interest of your county at heart?

To have sincere interest he must have investments, property or real estate in Hancock County, which he wants to protect, promote and improve in value. This is the general desire of all the people of Hancock County.

A conscientious Sheriff will be an asset to the people. His valuable services will be beneficial to the growth and welfare of the entire county.

He should be a person who wants to give, promote and protect the county; instead of just thinking of the revenue he will receive from the county as sheriff.

Ortte has reasons to be interested in the county's welfare and growth. He has real estate, lots and acreage in Lakeshore, Gulfview and Ettra Subdivisions for sale, real estate in Clermont Harbor, Waveland, Bay St. Louis and in the rural sections. He also has other successful businesses.

How many of the candidates have made their money elsewhere and invested everything he ever accumulated in Hancock County? ORTTE HAS!

His love for and sincere belief in Hancock County has been unmistakably proven by this fact: In 1947 the hurricane damaged his theatre in Bay St. Louis, completely demolished his property at Clermont Harbor, his home in Bay St. Louis, his restaurant and fishing camp at Bayou Caddy, but because of his interest and confidence in Hancock County he immediately rebuilt.

As Supervisor for 12 years he proved his value by being a friend to all the people, he helped break the road contract, stopped bond issues, prevented the squandering of county funds and kept the taxes down, and took good care of his roads and bridges.

As sheriff he will encourage the tourist and visitor to come through and live in Hancock County. While enforcing the laws he and his deputies will extend every courtesy to all people, especially visitors and tourists from Louisiana and elsewhere using the county roads and highways. Ortte says, "We want good newspaper publicity. We want more people to move to Hancock County! We must encourage them to come here, so we must prove to our visitors our warm, heartfelt desire that they are wanted in this county."

New homes and new settlers have been the backbone of our county. This promotion means the sale of more real estate, the sale of lumber and building materials, more work for our people, extra business for our various merchants and generally the growth of our county.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ziffle and family of Gretna, La. spent the week end in their Sobral Ave. home.

P. J. Springer, formerly of Indiana, has purchased the home located at 588 Waveland Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. George Langenstein have purchased the Stoltz home on Oak Blvd.

Mr. Adolph Woolverton and family will now live the year round in Waveland. They have purchased a home on Sears Ave. Mr. Woolverton reportedly will operate a laundrette in the building on Coleman Ave. and Beach Blvd. which was formerly occupied by the Wilcox Electric Co.

Waveland welcomes this new family and wishes them success in their new business venture.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Ross of Sears Ave. were guests during the week end of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Russo of Bay St. Louis. Dr. Russo was among others who took parts in the Little Theatre play, "Seven Keys to Baldpate" which was presented over the week end to most appreciative audiences.

Sympathy is extended to the relatives and friends of Mr. Dan Bourgeois who was buried in Waveland during the last week.

The J. W. Burgess home in Waveland Heights burned Tuesday, resulting in the complete loss of the house and furniture. Origin of the fire was not determined.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Brockman Jr. on their 8th Wedding Anniversary.

NEW CONTRACT AWARDED IN CONNECTION WITH POWER CO. PLANT

Mississippi Power Company officials announced today that a new contract, in connection with the construction of the Company's new 100,000 horsepower generating plant between Gulfport and Biloxi, has been awarded to Boh Brothers Construction Company of New Orleans.

Boh Brothers have contracted to drive approximately 2,000 thirty foot pine piling. These piling, purchased at the Gulfport Creosoting Company, will be driven so that the uppermost part of the piling will be below sea level. The piling will be so spaced that they will almost touch one another and will serve as the foundation for the main plant. The concrete framework of the substructure will be poured on top of these piling.

In addition to the 2,000 wood piling 400 tons of reinforcing steel will be used in the foundation.

Excavation for the plant now is below sea level. A total of nearly 100,000 cu. yds. of earth have thus far been removed in this phase of the job. In order to keep water from flowing into this section a de-watering system has been installed. This system, consisting primarily of piping and pumps, operates 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, during the time that construction work is being performed in the excavated area.

It also was reported that the excavation and fill work for the five mile railway spur is already underway and materials for the trestle over Bayou Bernard have been purchased. Construction in that area should begin within the very near future.

Progress on the entire job has been very satisfactory. The office building and construction warehouse have been completed and are being occupied. Company officials pointed out that each new contract let affords new employment opportunities for the community and also provides additional payrolls.

WORLD SAILING CRUISE

CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS

The second installment of the adventures of James L. Cox, who is sailing the world in the Windjammer.

PART II

After a half-hour followed, the tide came up and overboard swimming easily. They were watching and waiting for the right moment to move down for the kill. It was at that moment the last moment that natives of the island reached them in a rowboat and got them off.

The Windjammer

As the reef fighting the barracuda, they made the rescue. Ellis, by the way, had left the ship to make some business and was to rejoin them in America, so after recovering from their recent fright Cox, the Seaman and Gordon Nichol-Say set sail for Kingston, which they reached without incident.

Here, however, a shock was in store for Cox, for a letter was waiting him from Ellis, saying that the yacht owner was returning to Africa and wouldn't be able to continue the world cruise. He asked Cox to try to sell the yacht for him.

Cox, very disappointed, decided to try to Chicago, hoping to find and sell it to someone who would want to continue the voyage. He didn't find a buyer, but it was while he was in Chicago that he met the Adventurer. Cox had returned to America with the plan for the future voyage to be back to his old job with the steamship company; but when he went aboard the ship again in the Kingston harbor, he noticed the sleek, black hull of a racing sloop, the Windjammer, lying alongside the Mink of Alaska.

The yacht, he learned, was owned by Peggy Poor, a former New Orleans newspaper woman, bent on a round-the-world voyage. Miss Poor was fresh out of sea captains; and when she asked Cox to join the Windjammer, he felt that he had found the solution to his interrupted cruise, and that again he had the chance of fulfilling his sailor's dream.

They set sail for Panama-Cox, Gordon Nichol-Say, whom Cox signed on, Miss Poor, and a Jamaican boy whom Miss Poor had hired.

Three days out of Jamaica they raised the beautiful island of Providencia, a lovely oasis remote from the world, though just off Nicaragua.

Although Providencia belongs to Nicaragua's neighbor, Colombia, there is little love among the islanders for their parent country, for the islanders are of a different racial extraction, and also have a dissimilar way of looking at life.

These are the descendants of the co-mingling of the early English pirates and the native West Indian negroes and they are a beautifully built and happily constituted people.

There is no rush, no hurry and no nervousness here on Providencia. No machines at all—in fact, not even a chart for the Windjammer to make her way into port. However, charts were unnecessary, for a native pilot, seeing the yacht from afar, came out to ease them into the tricky anchorage.

The governor of the island, no less—who, by the way, was a Captain in the Colombian Navy—came aboard as soon as they had tied a line and welcomed them to the island. He was a very charming officer and both Cox and Miss Poor were impressed with his friendly manner towards them. They also made friends of other of the islanders, particularly the family of the Macopallas, who lived there, and were invited to several social affairs, outstanding among them the wedding of the governor, which took place in the bride's home.

She was a native of the island, and the ceremony was, therefore, a particularly touching as symbolic gesture, that of the bride throwing part of her veil over the groom's shoulder just at the moment the ritual.

Soon after this wedding, the governor and his new bride were recalled to Gogata, and the Colombian government allowed a rather unmediated corporal on the island; the next, apparently in rank, to assume the governorship temporarily.

The poor fellow had evidently never been in command of anything so great before, nor would ever be again; and his first act was to stomp down to the ship in his hobnailed boots, demanding the sum of three dollars and some cents for a fee against the ship—a fee which already had been paid.

For some reason the fellow evidently just needed three dollars and Cox was all for giving it to him to save trouble, knowing the natives well enough to realize that that small sum would keep him satisfied a week or so.

However, Miss Poor, angered by the effect of his hobnailed boots on her freshly waxed deck, refused absolutely. Whereupon the corporal, with his retinue, stomped through the ship until he reached the navigating room. There he demanded to see the ship's papers, none of which he could read, but all of which he stared at knowingly, holding the upside down.

Miss Poor, completely infuriated by the corporal, ordered him off the ship.

Winchman, serving back, had ordered them with natives in a sort of warfare with even more assorted guns, put out toward them, the corporal in command. And very cunningly indeed did he sit silently in the bow until the little craft slipped up to the Windjammer's port side. Then the corporal stood up and belatedly commanded to his companions, but sat down suddenly when a huge searchlight that Cox had meanwhile rigged up, shone full into the small boat.

However, he jumped up again, commanding his crew to board the Windjammer, but this proved a little difficult, since Cox had taken the precaution of pulling up the ladder. Then the corporal roared, his ultimatum: "Pay the three dollars, or be shot up."

Whereupon Miss Poor, enraged anew by the mention of the protested fee, deluged the corporal and his crew with a flow of threatened reprisals, all in furious Spanish. Among other things, she warned the corporal that if he dared fire on the Windjammer, the "whole United States Navy would come and get them," a point some might debate.

But this had the desired effect. Besides, the searchlight was blinding them, and they couldn't figure out how to climb up the ship's side without a ladder. So after muttering among themselves awhile, they withdrew.

All, however, was not yet over. Cox heard, through the Newbold's son, that the corporal had gone back and radioed a Colombian gunboat that he knew was in the vicinity to come and capture the Windjammer's crew.

He stated that they were guilty of everything imaginable and probable Communists to boot. As soon as Cox got news of the gunboat's having been contacted, he got ready to slip out of the harbor under cover of darkness.

The gunboat, however, did not follow. The Windjammer, serving back, had ordered them with natives in a sort of warfare with even more assorted guns, put out toward them, the corporal in command. And very cunningly indeed did he sit silently in the bow until the little craft slipped up to the Windjammer's port side. Then the corporal stood up and belatedly commanded to his companions, but sat down suddenly when a huge searchlight that Cox had meanwhile rigged up, shone full into the small boat.

However, he jumped up again, commanding his crew to board the Windjammer, but this proved a little difficult, since Cox had taken the precaution of pulling up the ladder. Then the corporal roared, his ultimatum: "Pay the three dollars, or be shot up."

Whereupon Miss Poor, enraged anew by the mention of the protested fee, deluged the corporal and his crew with a flow of threatened reprisals, all in furious Spanish. Among other things, she warned the corporal that if he dared fire on the Windjammer, the "whole United States Navy would come and get them," a point some might debate.

But this had the desired effect. Besides, the searchlight was blinding them, and they couldn't figure out how to climb up the ship's side without a ladder. So after muttering among themselves awhile, they withdrew.

All, however, was not yet over. Cox heard, through the Newbold's son, that the corporal had gone back and radioed a Colombian gunboat that he knew was in the vicinity to come and capture the Windjammer's crew.

He stated that they were guilty of everything imaginable and probable Communists to boot. As soon as Cox got news of the gunboat's having been contacted, he got ready to slip out of the harbor under cover of darkness.

PLYMOUTH DESIGNS WITH YOU IN MIND!
to put extra value in the low Plymouth price!

All cars have horns and wheels and headlights, but there's a lot of difference in the features of a car that add up to a-a-l-l-e. Here are just a few of Plymouth's features that will add to your comfort and your convenience. In the low-price 3, you'll find them only in Plymouth!

Cornerposts of Plymouth's glamorous new Full-View windshield are swept back, top and bottom (not bottom only), for better, safer vision.

For more direct pillowtop action, Plymouth mounts the longest-stroke front Offroad shock absorbers inside the big front coil springs.

Plymouth places two hydraulic brake cylinders in each front wheel (other low-price cars use only one) for smoother stops, greater reliability.

Plymouth's brilliant Forward Look styling gives you better forward visibility by letting you see more of the road directly ahead of the car.

If you ever have a blowout, your Plymouth has Safety Rim wheels which help hold a deflated tire on the rim while you slow to a safe stop.

Plymouth's Oilite fuel filter is located back in the fuel tank to protect the entire fuel system and engine from dirt and water. Plymouth is the BIGGEST, LONGEST, ROOMIEST car of the low-price 3. In fact, you can pay as much as $500 more for a medium-price car that's smaller than Plymouth! When you buy on facts, not dreams, your choice will be PLYMOUTH!

RUSSIA ARMS
International diplomatic Russia's Molotov, Secretary of State, and France's Foreign Minister, Georges Bonnet, were sitting down at the Big League table in the 10th of the United Nations
assembly is being observed.
The game was arranged to last birthday and at the same time in San Francisco, this time in San Francisco, the 10th of the United Nations
assembly is being observed.
To the amusement of Englishmen, Frenchmen and other peoples of the world, Mr. Molotov, whom the gown to look upon (as the chief of the destruction of hope, is on his best behalf, reflecting Russia's "new look." Mr. Molotov smiles. He agrees readily to the West's movement for peace. He droops honey and compliments. Russia is no longer to be a boy in the family of nations. The pattern at San Francisco is the same as that of Mr. Molotov and Premier Stalin and associates on their mission to Yugoslavia in their attempt to woo back the big question is, does the really want peace or is another buildup for an

NOTES FORESTRY
by
MARION PARKER
AREA FORESTER
Your county forest is not if you are going to do any thing, please notify the Rocky Hill Fire Tower.
There has been several small fires around Kila and Bay St.
Louis during the past week. These fires could have been very disastrous if the fire crew could not have gotten there as soon as they did. It is very dry and the fuel on the ground will burn very easy. If you are going to do any burning do it in the early part of the morning or late afternoon.
Many of these fires are caused from carelessness.
Area Forester Parker asks full cooperation of every person in the county in preventing this unnecessary waste of timber, other crops and wildlife.
Several of the fire laws of Mississippi are:
Deliberate woods firing in a felony.
H. G. 120: Section, Chapter 222
Laws of 1954.
If any person willfully, maliciously, sets on fire any woods,
meadow, marsh, field or prairie,
not his own, he shall be guilty of a felony and shall, upon conviction, be sentenced to the state penitentiary for not more than two years nor less than one year, or fined not less than two hundred dollars ($200) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or both, in the discretion of the court.
Allowing fire to escape to land of another is a misdemeanor.
H.B. 120: Section 2, Chapter
222 Laws of 1954.
That if any person negligently and wantonly causes fire to be communicated to any woods,
meadow, marsh, field or prairie
not his own, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall upon conviction, be fined not less than twenty dollars ($20) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500) or imprisoned in the county jail not more than five hundred dollars ($500) or imprisoned in the county jail not more than three months or both, in the discretion of the court.

NEW TREE FARM ACREAGE ADDED IN MISSISSIPPI
Mississippi's certified tree farms now number 1,418,530 acres, it has been announced by Richard Allen, Chairman of the Mississippi Tree Farm Committee. The total was announced after the recent addition of 14,076 acres. In addition to the newest tree farmers in the state, companies owning tree farms are Pascagoula
Hardwood Co. of Laurel; Crosby Lumber and Manufacturing Company of Crosby and International Paper Company of Mobile.

OLE MISS STUDENTS TO LEAVE FOR SUMMER SCHOOL IN MEXICO
Students enrolled in the University of Mississippi Summer School at Morelia, Mexico, will leave Memphis by train on June 30 to begin their studies.
The program, sponsored jointly by University Extension and the Department of Modern Languages, is directed by Professor Andrew Sullivan of the department.
Begun last year, the school attempts to give students of Spanish an opportunity to learn the language through living in a community where English is not spoken and also to give them an appreciation of the culture of Mexico.
Formal instruction will be given daily in the patio of the student living quarters by Professor Sullivan and by Licenciado Alfredo Ybarra of the University of Michoacan.
For completion of the course which lasts until August 22, students can earn six hours of academic credit at the University of Mississippi.

FUTURE FARMERS TO GATHER AT STATE COLLEGE JUNE 28
Bill Gunter, national president of the Future Farmers of America from Live Oak, Florida, will be a featured speaker at the 22nd
State Convention of Future Farmers of Mississippi to be held June 28-30 at State College. Approximately 1,000 Mississippi Future Farmers are expected to attend the convention according to reports in the office of A. P.
Fatheree, State Supervisor of Vocational Agriculture.
One delegate and one alternate from each of the state's 282 local chapters will comprise the voting body to conduct the business of the convention.

WINS YACHT RACE

By CHRISTOPHER BELL

Mildred Logan, the Pass Christian collector who was the spark of the St. Joseph School basketball team, has turned her talents now towards the field of yachting and last Sunday captured the second of three junior races at the Pass Christian Yacht Club.

Miss Logan, sailing in a strong wind from the southwest varying from 20 to 30 knots, narrowly missed winning a second race of the day, but her boat was given a "Did Not Finish" when she made a wrong turn on the final lap.

Tommy Bristoe was the first junior race winner with John Curran and Mike Ellis placing second and third respectively. Bobby Homes, who finished second to Miss Logan in the second race, captured the third race with Barney Lighter second and Curran coming in third.

MADISON WELL EXPECTED TO HIT OIL SHOWS SOON

Carter's Oil Company's F. H. Ray No. 1 in Madison County expected interest last week as geologists predicted some oil shows might be indicated within the next 100 feet.

Division Geologist for the Carter Co. explained that the well is being drilled as a twin operation to S. L. Brown well in which oil shows were passed at around 7,000 feet.

The well was continued to 12,500 feet and brought in as a gas well. Similar developments are expected in the Ray well, which is now down to about 600 feet.

The Ray well has been drilled for the past three weeks and is located in the Loring unit.

DIFFERENCE

"Did you enjoy your dinner, sir?" asked the solicitous restaurant proprietor.

"Yes, except the dessert. That was terrible."

"Did you have the plum tart or lemon pie?"

"I don't know. It tasted like glue!"

"Ah! It was the plum tart. The lemon pie tastes like paste."

EXCELLENT CAST GIVES MANY LAUGHS AT LITTLE THEATRE PRODUCTION

An excellent cast gave many laughs to Little Theatre Audiences this past week end, when the old stand-by, "Seven Keys to Baldpate" was presented for a three night run.

Instead of straight melodrama, the directors, Bea and Kenny Smith, played the show as a farce comedy. Roland Weston provoked many of the laughs from the spectators with his interpretation of the role of the police chief.

Mark Solomon, who carried the show with his lead role, did as usual a fine performance. Mildred Hamilton, as the leading lady, gave promise from this her first performance of being excellent potential lead material. She is pretty, with an inherent poise and a delightful voice.

The Rev. Charles Johnson gave one of the best in the role of the dimwitted former convict and stooge for the crooked mayor, he was certainly out of character and it meant real acting ability to portray the part with the realism that he gave it.

Don McCulloch, a former Oscar winner in "My Sister Eileen" is a tried and true veteran of a number of good plays, and can always be counted on to give a stellar show.

Max Languirand, another veteran who has done such fine acting jobs as the husband in "The Great Big Doorstep" and the scheming Greek landlord in "My Sister Eileen" came up with a very good show. Jane Wiggins, another newcomer to the boards, gives much promise. She has an unusual timbre to her voice that will prove flexible and interesting with training. She also has poise and good looks and showed a willingness for direction that should be an asset if she will continue to take roles.

Betty Rose and Katherine O'Neal both gave very nice performances, and had to go entirely out of character in presenting the characters they played. They too were newcomers who should be used more frequently in the future.

Julian O'Neal and Russell Chapman had minor roles but did justice to them, as did Leo Sel Jr., who played the owner of the lodge, and was the inspiration for the plot of the play as the story unfolds. Dr. Walter Russo was particularly good for a first time performer. His interpretation of the old caretaker of Baldpate was extremely convincing, and his make-up was good enough to hide all traces of his youth and natural good looks. He has a good speaking voice, control of his lines at all times, and is a fine prospect for future leads. Dr. Charles Wacom gave a very interesting interpretation of the hermit of Baldpate, and under his bushy wig and make-up was not recognizable at all. He intrigued his audiences with his way of moving on and off the stage, and particularly with his cute little jig in one part of the show.

This was a first time for Bea and Kenny to direct a show, and they succeeded in giving hilarious evenings to those who came to enjoy themselves. Laughter was loud and the applause long for the entire cast.

The next play to be presented by the management will be "Private Lives," Noel Coward's sophisticated comedy, laid on the Continent. Adeline Samuel will direct, and announcements will be made for tryouts. In direct contrast to its predecessor this production has a small cast of only five, but will require technical perfection on the parts of both director and cast. Adeline is experienced in this field, and never disappoints an audience with the plays which she heads as director.

COLORS RESIDENT DIES

Alcide (Boy) Labat, 69 year old colored resident, died at his home 517 Sycamore Sunday night.

A native of Bay St. Louis, he is survived by his wife, Horrietta Piernas Labat, six daughters, Adele Tate, Gladys Farris, Mercedes Meggs, Estelle Cousseaux, Olga Boyd and Victorine Taylor; and two sons, Edgen and Albert Labat. Services were held today from the home with religious services from St. Rose de Lima Church at 9 a.m. Interment was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Funeral arrangements were handled by Fahey Funeral Home.

Some weeks after receiving $800 compensation for the loss of her jewelry an elderly woman informed her insurance representatives that she had found the missing property in a cupboard.

"I didn't think it would be fair to keep both the jewelry and the money, so I thought you would be pleased to know that I have sent the $800 to the Red Cross," she wrote.

CHANCERY SUMMONS

ALPHONSE J. PATTERSON DIES HERE JUNE 25

Alphonse Joseph Patterson died Saturday, June 25 at 1 p.m. at King's Daughters Hospital in Bay St. Louis.

He was 52 years of age, a native of New Orleans and resident of Bay St. Louis for five days before his death.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lillie M. Patterson, father of "Ernie" Patterson, brother of the late Mrs. Barbara Weidbeck and John Dalmer.

The body was taken by Fahey Funeral Home and brought to New Orleans for burial from the auxiliary funeral home of Jacob Schenck and Son on Canal St. on Monday afternoon at 3:30. Religious rites were held from St. Ann's Episcopal Church on Esplanade Ave., with interment in St. Vincent's de Paul Cemetery No. 2.

IMPOLITE TEACHER

Nine-year old David hurried off to school one morning before his mother inspected his wash job. So, when he sat down in the classroom, breakfast was still visible on his face.

The teacher frowned and said reprovingly: "David, you didn't wash your face. What would you say if I came to school one morning with egg and jam around my mouth?"

"Nothing," said Dave. "I'd be too polite."

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY NEWS

The State Convention of the American Legion will be held in Jackson July 10, 11 and 12. On Monday, July 11, the election of officers will be held. Mrs. Russell Elliott, President of Unit 139, is a candidate for District 9 president.

There will be a tea Monday from 4:30 to 6:00 at the Governor's Mansion. A dance will be held at the Heidelberg Hotel at 9:00.

Regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary has been postponed from the regular date in July to July 18. At this meeting the yearly reports will be read.

Newly elected officers will be installed at the August meeting. Girls from Girls' State also will be guests at the meeting.

All Auxiliary members are asked to help with the Auxiliary's Hot Dog stand on the beach this Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

The American Legion is sponsoring a 4th of July Celebration and Auxiliary members are asked to help at this one booth. The celebration starts at 2 p.m. Saturday and Sunday and at 11 a.m. Monday. For further details contact Mrs. Russell Elliott. The Auxiliary also will have a grab bag.

The TV drive is showing some progress. The TV set is for the Kings Daughters Hospital and is being purchased from diBenedetto's Appliances. Twenty-six local organizations have been contacted for their donations to this drive. The organizations that have sent in their checks are: American Legion Auxiliary, American Legion, Blue Jeans Garden Club, Hancock County Library, St. Margaret's Daughters. All checks were for $9.06.

Donations are to be sent to diBenedetto's Appliances as soon as possible. The TV will not be installed until the 26 checks, totaling $235.65, cost of the set, has been received. The TV has a 21 in screen and a wrought iron table, and the price includes complete installation.

The Story Hour at the Library Friday mornings has been well attended by children aged 4 to 9. Last Friday, 43 children came to hear about Davy Crockett.

This Friday all children in that age group are urged to attend the special story on the 4th of July.

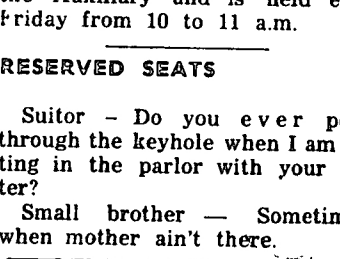

The Story Hour is sponsored by the Auxiliary and is held each Friday from 10 to 11 a.m.

RESERVED SEATS

Suitor - Do you ever peep through the keyhole when I am sitting in the parlor with your sister?

Small brother - Sometimes, when mother ain't there.

Smokey Says:

Too many fires are left "untended!" A reminder—put out your campfire!

COLORS MAN DIES

Cleveland McCall (colored), employed as a construction gang laborer with the L & N Railroad died Monday morning about 9 a.m. He became ill on the job and was taken to a doctor's office in an automobile. Before the doctor could treat him he died of an apparent heart condition. He is survived by his wife and family.

The body was handled by Fahey Funeral Home. It was shipped via L & N to the Lee Funeral Home in Montgomery, Ala. Tuesday morning. Burial will take place in that city.

MAY IS THRIPPY

In Sunflower County April cotton is doing fine and is in bloom, but May is generally thrippy, causing farmers to start their spraying programs earlier than usual. In making this report County Agent Cecil Black said the recent cold, wet spell has retarded cotton's growth, and hot weather now is needed to bring the crop up to par.

Soybeans in Sunflower County are looking "extra fine," with acreage being planted behind oats.

Although there is still some late planting to be done, the corn crop is looking fine," Black said. "Use plenty of fertilizer and an abundance of moisture has the crop off to a most promising start."

JUST THE PLACE

"Found a new house yet?" "We've stopped looking. After reading the appraiser's description of the place we have, it seemed to be just the place we were looking for."

SHOOTING MATCH

There will be a shooting match at Edison Bounds, Main St., at 2 p.m. Sunday, July 3.

VOICE OF EXPERIENCE

Wife (reading from an insurance pamphlet): "A large percentage of accidents occur in the kitchen."

Husband: "Yes, and what's worse, we men have to eat them and pretend we enjoy them."

CLERMONT MAN DROWNED—

Funeral Service to New Orleans where services were held from the P. J. McMahon-Coburn Funeral Home. Religious rites followed at St. Dominic Church with interment in Greenwood Cemetery.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Mary Coyle Fleming, New Orleans; a son, Daniel L. Fleming; and two sisters, Miss May Fleming and Mrs. Armand Scully of New Orleans.

Fleming is believed to have suffered a heart attack while in the water which caused him to drown.

BAY GIRLS HOSTESSES—

would like to thank you for arranging for the lovely group of girls to visit our hospital.

"The topic of conversation all over the hospital is about the party."

"We were delighted with the enthusiasm of the girls and how they joined the patients in the games."

"Needless to say, the cakes and cookies were enjoyed by each and all. Our two lucky patients who received the cake and pie are still boasting about how good they were."

"We shall be very happy to have you visit our hospital again soon."

"Again, thanks to each member who made our party a grand success."

BOOK REVIEW—

audience could follow his talk, he devoted his all too brief time to an interpretation of a hitherto much misunderstood woman, Mary Todd Lincoln, and her great husband. Both Abraham Lincoln and his passionately devoted wife lived again in the Rev. Mr. Batson's vivid delineation of their characters.

The third of the series of book reviews will be given at the Library in the near future, when Mrs. Janet Yancey of New Orleans will speak. Due notice of the time and the book she will discuss will be given in this paper.

EXTREMELY LIGHT CONDUCT

Twenty years ago a woman had a notorious affair with a man, and now she's mixed up with the same man's son.

That's what one might call burning the scandal at both ends.

TO THE VOTERS OF BEAT 5, HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI:

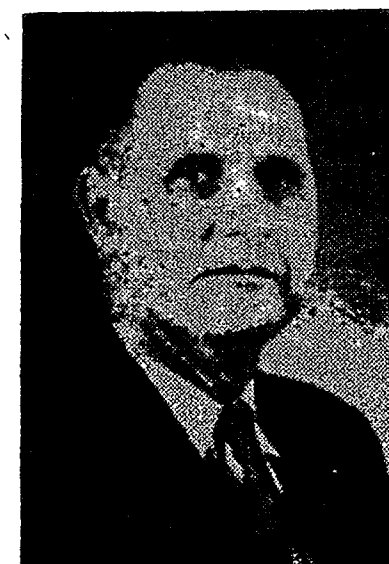

I wish to take this means of informing the people that due to the serious illness of my brother, Bradley Mazarakis, who is presently in the hospital in New Orleans, it has been impossible for me to see as many of you as I originally intended.

Even though the nature of my brother's illness presently requires me to spend most of my time with him, it is my sincere desire that the people of Beat 5 understand my present circumstances and the reason why I have been away from home in the past several weeks, and possibly will be required to be absent from home for some time to come.

Regardless of the above, I will still endeavor to contact and see as many people as I possibly can when the time permits.
